

Data Life Cycle

Diagram the life cycle—from birth to death—of your data: How are the data created? How are they processed? How and where to the data get stored? How are they transmitted? Who has access and what work do they do on the data? When is the data useful and usable? What is the half life of the data? When does the data get archived or destroyed? Does the data expire?

